PREAMBLE

WE, the students of the computing and allied disciplines at the Lagos State University of Science and Technology (LASUSTECH),

CONSCIOUS of our moral, intellectual, and social responsibilities to our academic institution, the computing profession, and the Federal Republic of Nigeria;

DETERMINED to foster unity, understanding, and robust intellectual engagement among ourselves, as well as to safeguard our academic and socio-cultural interests;

RESOLVED to create a formal framework that promotes technological advancement, professional development, and the overall welfare of every student under the purview of computing sciences;

DO HEREBY ENACT, ADOPT, AND GIVE TO OURSELVES this Constitution to guide, regulate, and administer the affairs of the Nigeria Association of Computing Students (NACOS), LASUSTECH Chapter.

ARTICLE 1: GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1.1: Name and Citation

1. The organization shall be known, called, and addressed as the "Nigeria Association of Computing Students", hereinafter referred to as "NACOS" or "The Association".

2. The specific chapter governed by this Constitution shall be the "Lagos State University of Science and Technology Chapter", hereinafter referred to as "NACOS LASUSTECH".

Section 1.2: Supremacy of the Constitution

1. This Constitution is supreme and its provisions shall have binding force on all authorities and persons who are members of NACOS LASUSTECH.

2. If any other law, bye-law, or resolution of the Association is inconsistent with the provisions of this Constitution, this Constitution shall prevail, and that other law, bye-law, or resolution shall, to the extent of the inconsistency, be void.

Section 1.3: Aims and Objectives

The aims and objectives of the Association shall include, but are not limited to:

a. Promoting the academic, professional, and social welfare of its members.

b. Creating a platform for the exchange of ideas and technological innovations among students.
c. Organizing seminars, workshops, symposia, and hackathons to build practical skills.
d. Serving as the official liaison between computing students and the departmental/university administration.
e. Fostering a cordial relationship between NACOS LASUSTECH and other chapters across Nigeria.
f. Preparing members for successful integration into the global technology ecosystem.
g. Ensuring equity, justice, and fair play in all matters relating to its members.

ARTICLE 2: MEMBERSHIP

Section 2.1: Types of Membership

Membership of the Association shall be explicitly categorized into four distinct groups to ensure inclusive representation within the computing ecosystem:

a) Ordinary/Active Members: This primary category comprises all duly matriculated and registered undergraduate students pursuing a degree in Computer Science at the Lagos State University of Science and Technology. Active status is maintained solely through the payment of all prescribed dues.

b) Associate Members: This classification includes students from allied engineering or science departments who express a verifiable interest in computing and technology, as well as staff members, researchers, and laboratory technologists within the computing faculties who elect to formally identify with the Association's activities.

c) Alumni Members: These are distinguished graduates of the computing disciplines from LASUSTECH who were financial and active members of NACOS during their period of undergraduate study. Alumni members serve as a bridge for mentorship and industry integration.

d) Honorary Members: Individuals of exceptionally high repute, seasoned IT professionals, or patrons who are awarded this prestigious status by a two-thirds (2/3) majority of the Congress in recognition of their outstanding financial, intellectual, or moral contributions to the growth of the IT sector and NACOS LASUSTECH.

Section 2.2: Rights and Privileges of Members

Every active financial member of NACOS LASUSTECH shall be entitled to the following constitutional rights and privileges:

a. Electoral Franchise: The right to vote and be voted for in any NACOS LASUSTECH election, provided they strictly meet the specific electoral guidelines, academic requirements, and clearance procedures stipulated by the Electoral Committee.
b. Parliamentary Rights: The right to attend, speak, debate, and sponsor motions at all General Congress meetings of the Association without fear of intimidation.
c. Access to Resources: Unrestricted access to all facilities, academic resources, tutorials, software repositories, and social programs organized by the Association, subject to the operational guidelines set by the Executive Council.
d. Institutional Protection: The right to seek the protection, intervention, and institutional defense of the Association in cases of academic victimization, unjust disciplinary actions, or welfare disputes with the institution's management.

e. Financial Accountability: The right to demand absolute financial accountability from the Executive Council and to petition the Audit Committee to inspect the financial ledgers, receipts, and bank statements through appropriate constitutional channels.

f. Right to Fair Hearing: The fundamental right to a fair hearing and defense before any disciplinary panel or the Students' Representative Council before any punitive action is taken against them.

Section 2.3: Obligations of Members

To maintain active status and legitimately enjoy the aforementioned rights, every member is constitutionally obligated to:

a. Promptly pay all basic annual association dues and any legally approved special levies at the beginning of each academic session without default.

b. Uphold, defend, protect, and respect the Constitution of NACOS LASUSTECH at all times, preventing its subversion by any individual or group.

c. Actively participate in the functions, emergency meetings, general congresses, and developmental programs organized by the Association.

d. Conduct themselves in a highly professional and moral manner that projects the excellent image of the Association and the computing profession, both within the university campus and in the broader society.

e. Abide strictly by the broader rules, regulations, and academic edicts of the Lagos State University of Science and Technology.

f. Refrain entirely from acts of insubordination, physical violence, financial fraud, cybercrime, cultism, or any behavior that sharply contradicts the ethical and legal standards expected of IT professionals in the Federal Republic of Nigeria.

ARTICLE 3: ORGANS OF THE ASSOCIATION

Section 3.1: The Congress

1. The Congress shall be the highest and supreme decision-making body of NACOS LASUSTECH, consisting of all registered, active, and financial members of the Association across all academic levels.

2. Powers of the Congress: The Congress holds the ultimate authority and shall be vested with the power to:

a. Debate, review, and pass binding resolutions on all matters affecting the general academic, social, and financial welfare of the members.

b. Ratify, amend, or reject the annual financial budget presented by the Executive Council.

c. Approve the impeachment, suspension, or reinstatement of any erring executive or legislative officer upon receiving and debating the recommendation of a recognized investigative panel.

d. Amend, alter, or repeal any provision of this Constitution by a strict two-thirds (2/3) majority vote of all members present at a constitutionally convened sitting.

3. Meetings of the Congress: The Congress shall meet ordinarily at least twice per academic semester. However, an emergency Congress can be summoned at any time by the President, or mandatorily convened by the General Secretary upon receiving a written petition signed by at least fifty (50) verified financial members.

Section 3.2: The Executive Council

1. The Executive Council shall be the supreme administrative, managerial, and implementing organ of the Association.

2. It is tasked with the mandate to execute the policies, budgets, and directives approved by the Congress and the SRC, ensuring the smooth and efficient day-today running of the Association's secretariat and programs.

3. The exact composition, tenure limits, specific duties, and constitution allimitations of the Executive Council and its officers are strictly and extensively defined in Articles 4 and 5 of this Constitution.

Section 3.3: The Students' Representative Council (SRC)

1. There shall be established a Students' Representative Council (SRC), which shall serve as the primary legislative and administrative oversight organ of the Association, distinct from the Executive Council.

2. Composition of the SRC: The SRC shall comprise duly elected parliamentarians representing each academic level (from 100L through to HND/ 500L) and any other recognized special constituencies within the computing department. The leadership of the SRC shall be headed by the Speaker, who is assisted by the Deputy Speaker, the Chief Whip, and the Clerk of the House.

3. Functions, Duties, and Powers of the SRC:

a. To enact standing orders, bye-laws, and operational regulations to govern the specific internal operations of the Association, provided strictly that such laws do not conflict with or supersede this Constitution.
b. To rigorously scrutinize, debate, amend, and give preliminary approval to the annual budget proposed by the Executive Council before its final presentation to the General Congress for ratification.
c. To serve as the institutional check and balance on the Executive Council, possessing the constitutional power to summon any executive officer, including the President, for questioning regarding the discharge of their duties or financial expenditures.
d. To legally constitute and empower specialized standing and ad-hoc committees (e.g., Audit Committee, Electoral Committee, Disciplinary Committee) as directed by the Congress.
e. To officially initiate articles of impeachment proceedings against any officer found violating the Constitution, misappropriating funds, or engaging in gross misconduct, forwarding their findings to the Congress.

ARTICLE 4: THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Section 4.1: Composition

The Executive Council shall be the principal administrative organ of the Association, composed of the following duly elected officers:

a. The President
b. The Vice President
c. The Lady Vice President
